

SOLVE UNREST, WILSON PLEA SENSATION IS PROMISED IN ACCUSED SLAYER'S DEFENSE

HARRY NEW, JR., WILL REVEAL STRANGE LIFE HISTORY, CLAIM

Will Tell Story of Relationship with His Alleged Father.

DEPOSITIONS ARE TAKEN

Defense Hopes to Prove Prisoner Congenitally "Irrational."

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 2.—What undoubtedly will be the bulwark of defense for Harry S. New Jr., confessed slayer of his sweetheart, Freda Lesser,
when he faces trial for murder here
Dec. 16, was revealed today when testimony contained in thirty depositions taken by the defense "leaked out"
with sensational results.

The depositions taken in Indianapolis, Ind., illuminate the strange life history of the prisoner, they tell the unbiased story of his relationship with his alleged father, U. S. Senator Harry Stewart New of Indianapolis, and discloses startling facts and buried secrets in connection with New's declaration that he is the son of the senator.

With the depositions Attorney Lecompte Davis, chief counsel for the defense, is ready to go into trial to prove New congenitally "irrational"
and mentally sub-normal from birth.

Thirty witnesses testified. The majority of these based their opinions of his mental peculiarity on his constant depression and brooding over the alleged circumstances of his birth.

Among the prominent witnesses testifying in New's behalf are Col. Robert H. Tyndall, of the famous Rainbow division, Major Sydney E. Miller, of the same organization; Gavin L.
Payne, an army captain, and two lieutenants.

Evidence that will strike like a thunderbolt in Indiana and Washington, D. C., where Senator New is prominent, is contained in testimony of Martha Scudder, New's aunt on his mother's side of the family. Miss Scudder resides in Indianapolis, New's native home. She testified that Senator New and Mrs. Lilly Burger, her sister, were the parents of two sons.
One of these sons, she testified, is Harry New Jr. The other was Stuart
New, named also for the senator.

That child died two years after he was born.

Miss Scudder declared that she had acted as an intermediary between Senator New and Harry New and that the senator has "taken care" of the boy financially.

SUGAR ON WAY TO THIS CITY

Acute Saccharine Commodity
Shortage Will Be Relieved
This Week.

Alleviation of the acute sugar shortage which confronted East Liverpool for weeks was promised Tuesday by the announcement that a carload of beet sugar consigned to an East Liverpool wholesale house, was rolling westward from a Michigan refinery.

Contents of the car will be distrib-
ed proportionately among retail concerns in the East Liverpool district immediately upon its arrival this week.

In a recent ruling, Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer, who has been given supervision over the beet sugar crop, fixed a new wholesale fair price on sugar. When freight charges and handling fees are added, the Ohio and Michigan sugar will likely retail here for 14½ cents a pound. It was predicted Tuesday. The government fair wholesale price for beet sugar was originally announced at 10 cents, later changed to 10½ cents and finally to 12 cents.

GIRL KILLED WHEN GUN IS DISCHARGED

Pauline, Three Years Old Daughter of John Mykiel, Near Salem, Is Victim of Accident.

Pauline Mykiel 3-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Mykiel residing on a farm four and one-half miles southwest of Salem was almost instantly killed Monday when she was struck by the full charge of a shotgun discharged when it struck the floor
after being jarred from its resting place against a doorjam at the Mykiel home by the sudden closing of the door.

The little girl was playing on the floor within a few feet of the door leading to the outside of the house.
The shotgun which had been placed against the door frame by a member of the family was dislodged from its position when the mother passed thru the door closing it forcibly behind her.
The muzzle of the weapon struck the floor within a few feet of the girl's face. The entire charge from the gun penetrated the girl's mouth, took a downward course and shattered her spine.

The sound of the shot brought the mother back into the house. The little girl was found crumpled on the floor directly in front of the weapon.

The frantic mother Tuesday was unable to recall who leaned the gun against the door sill. She told the Salem authorities that she did not know the gun was loaded.

RESIGNS POST AT Y. M. C. A.

Directors Accept Resignation of General Secretary E.
K. Bennett.

Resignation of E. Kelsey Bennett as acting general secretary of the Y. M. C. A. has been accepted by the board of directors of the association.

Mr. Bennett tendered his resignation to the board of directors several months ago, but was urged to retain his post pending appointment of a permanent secretary. A warm letter of appreciation for Mr. Bennett's splendid work at the Y. M. C. A. and signed by every member of the board of directors was forwarded to Mr. Bennett, advising him of the acceptance of his resignation.

John C. Cramer, former boys' work director, has been named acting general secretary until a permanent general secretary is named. Secretary Cramer assumed charge of the institution Dec. 1.

HENRY FRICK, AGED 70, COAL, COKE, STEEL MAGNATE, DEAD

Serious Illness Follows Attack of Ptomaine Poisoning.

WAS SELF-MADE MAN

Outstanding Figure In Development of American Steel Industry.

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—Henry Clay Frick, multi-millionaire coal, coke and steel magnate died at his home today, aged 70. Mr. Frick suffered an attack of ptomaine poisoning a fortnight ago, but had nearly recovered from this when another and more severe illness developed. This necessitated a consultation of physicians.

Mrs. Frick and her daughter were at the bedside when Mr. Frick died at his city residence, Fifth avenue and Seventeenth street.

Mr. Frick was a self-made man rising from a poor boy to be controller of millions. He and Andrew Carnegie were two of the most outstanding figures in the development of the American steel industry.

Mr. Frick died at 5:15 o'clock this morning.

Mr. Frick was born at Overton, Pa., on December 19, 1849, and began business as a clerk for his grandfather, a flour merchant and distiller. His education was meagre but he worked at night to educate himself. Accumulating a few hundred dollars young Frick embarked in the coke business in a small way. On December 15, 1881, he was married to Miss Adelaide Howard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Asa P.
Childs of Pittsburgh.

Seeing the possibilities in the use of coke in the steel industry around Pittsburgh, Mr. Frick interested a number of men with money in the purchase of coal lands and the erection of coke ovens in the Connellsville district. The H. C. Frick Coal and Coke Company was formed, which is now the biggest coke producing concern in the world. Mr. Frick came into prominent notice during the famous Homestead strike. By that time he had become a partner in the Carnegie Steel Company at Pittsburgh. Mr. Carnegie was in Europe at that time and the task of directing the contest against the strikers fell upon Mr. Frick.

In 1892 while seated in his office in Pittsburgh, Mr. Frick was shot by Alexander Berkman, the anarchist who is now being deported by the United States.

Mr. Frick was one of the founders of the United States Steel Corporation, in which he was a director at the time of his death. Among the other enterprises in which he was a director are: Mellon National Bank, Pittsburg; Norfolk and Western Railroad;
Philadelphia and Reading Railroad; Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company; Pennsylvania Railroad Company; Atchafalaya, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad Company; Union Trust Company, Pittsburgh, and the City National Bank, New York.

URGES UNCLE SAM TO SETTLE CAPITAL, LABOR DIFFICULTIES

Completely Ignoring Peace Treaty,
President's Message to Congress
Declares Need of Definite Program to Bring About Improvement in Conditions of Labor.

By WM. PHILIP SIMMS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—Completely ignoring the peace treaty and fo-turing the nation-wide unrest as the big issue now before the country, President Wilson's anxiously awaited message to the sixty-sixth congress was read before both houses at noon today.

Declaring the absolute need of a definite program to bring about an improvement in the conditions of labor; that governments must recognize the right of collective bargaining and the right to strike, but that it is also the right of the government to protect the people against the challenge of any class, the president urges the United States to put its house in order by an immediate consideration of the difficulties between capital and labor.

"This is the hour of test and trial for America," he declared. "Let not her failure to settle matters of purely domestic concern be proclaimed to the world."

In the matter of railroads, he said, he would address congress later on.
The message first advocates the establishment of a budget system, next the simplification and, if possible, the reduction of income and profit taxes;
the regulation of cold storage; relief to soldiers; tariff legislation and the encouragement of increased production as a means of lessening the cost of living. It also points out the necessity of the United States abandoning provincial standards "which have held American business as if in a straight jacket" and the adoption of a broad policy to permit the country to "take advantage of the opportunities that are ours."

TEXT OF PRESIDENT WILSON'S MESSAGE TO 66TH CONGRESS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—President Wilson's message to the sixty-sixth congress was as follows:

"To the senate and house of representatives:
"I sincerely regret that I can not be present at the opening of this session of the congress. I am thus prevented from presenting in as direct a way as I could wish the many questions that are pressing for solution at this time. Happily, I have had the advantage of the advice of the heads of the several executive departments who have kept in close touch with affairs in their detail and whose thoughtful recommendations I earnestly second."

"In the matter of the railroads and the readjustment of their affairs growing out of federal control, I shall take the liberty at a later date of addressing you."

"I hope congress will bring to a conclusion at this session legislation looking to the establishment of a budget system. That there should be one single authority responsible for the making of all appropriations and that appropriations should be made not independently of each other, but with reference to one single comprehensive plan of expenditure properly related to the nation's income, there can be no doubt. I believe the burden of preparing the budget must, in the nature of the case, if the work is to be properly done and responsibility concentrated. Instead of divided, rest upon the executive. The budget so prepared should be submitted to and approved or amended by a single committee of each house of congress and no single appropriation should be made by the congress except such as may have been included in the budget prepared by the executive or added by the particular committee of congress charged with the budget legislation."

"Another and not less important aspect of the problem is the ascertainment of the economy and efficiency with which the moneys appropriated are expended. Under existing law the only audit is for the purpose of ascertaining whether expenditures have been lawfully made within the appropriations. No one is authorized or equipped to ascertain whether the money has been spent wisely, economically and effectively. The auditors should be highly trained officials with permanent tenure in the treasury department, free of obligations to or motives of consideration for this or any subsequent administration and authorized and empowered to examine into and make report upon the methods employed and the results obtained by the executive departments of the government. Their reports should be made to the congress and to the secretary of the treasury.

"I trust that the congress will give adequate consideration to this problem of future taxation. Simplification of the income and profits taxes has become an immediate necessity.
These taxes performed indispensable service during the war. They must, however, be simplified, not only to save the taxpayer inconvenience and expense, but in order that his ability may be made certain and definite.
"With reference to the details of the revenue law, the secretary of the treasury and the commissioner of internal revenue will lay before you for your consideration certain amendments necessary or desirable in connection with the administering of the law—recommendations which have my approval and support. It is of the utmost importance that in dealing with this matter the present law should not be disturbed so far as regards taxes for the calendar year 1920, payable in the calendar 1921.
The congress might well consider whether the higher rates of income and profits taxes can in peace time be effectively productive of revenue and whether they may not, on the contrary, be destructive of business activity and productive of waste and inefficiency. There is a point at which in peace times high rates of income and profits taxes discourage energy, remove the incentive to new enterprises, encourage extravagant expenditures and produce industrial stagnation with consequent unemployment and other attendant evils.
"The problem is not an easy one.
A fundamental change has taken place with reference to the position of America in the world's affairs. The prejudice and passions engendered by decades of controversy between two schools of political and economic thought—the one believers in protection of American industries, the other believers in tariff for revenue only—must be subordinated to the single consideration of the public interest in the light of utterly changed conditions. Before the war America was heavily the debtor of the rest of the world and the interest payments she had to make to foreign countries on American securities held abroad, the expenditures of American travelers abroad and the ocean freight charges
she had to pay to others, about balanced the value of her pre-war favorable balance of trade. During the war America's exports have been greatly stimulated and increased prices have increased their values. On the other hand she has purchased a large portion of the American securities previously held abroad, has loaned some $9,000,000,000 to foreign governments and has built her own ships. Our favorable balance of trade has been

Victor output reaches normal

The shortage in Victrolas will soon be relieved

Plans for expanding the plant to meet the tremendous increase in demand have been fully matured and are under way—astonishing increases are assured within the next few months.

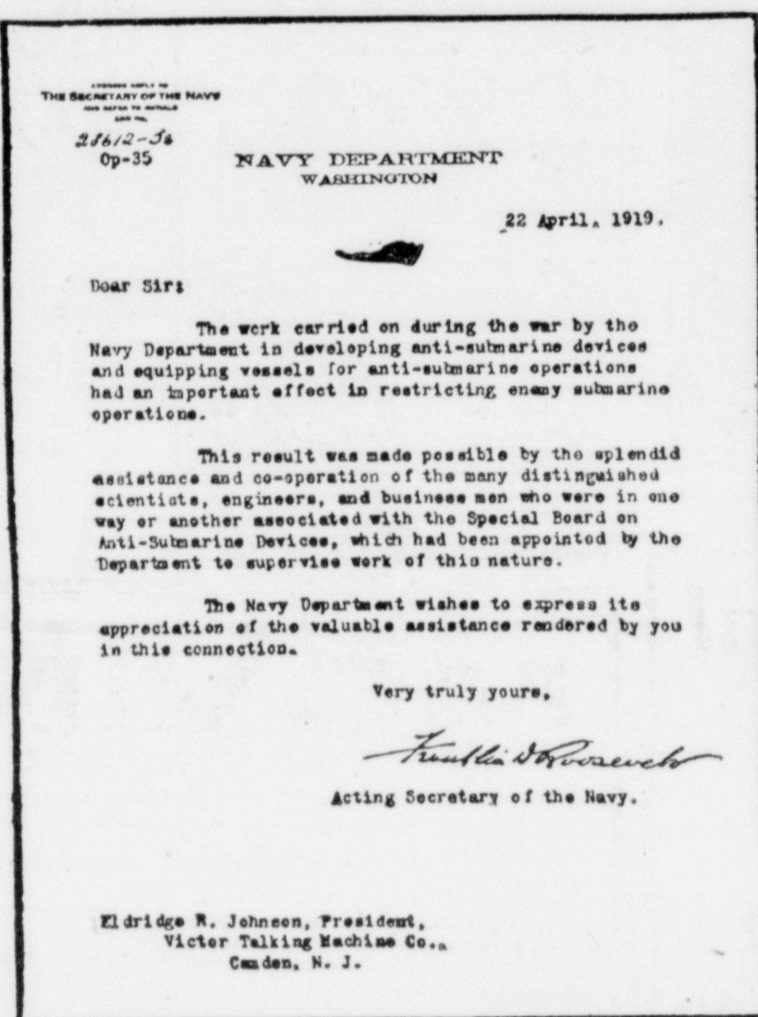

The value of the Victor Talking Machine Company's output for October was the greatest in its history. The unprecedented shortage of Victrolas will therefore soon be relieved.

During the war practically 90% of the $36,000,000 Victor investment was devoted to war work. This was responsible for the almost total disappearance of Victrolas from the market.

The armistice was signed in November, 1918, but it was not until March, 1919, that the Victor Company could clear its plant of war orders. And as it requires at least four months to manufacture Victrolas in the way the Victor Company manufactures them and in the way they should be manufactured, the rapidity of our recovery to normal output will be appreciated by all who know about manufacturing.

The Victor Company is the only talking machine company in the United States which has a complete plant for the manufacture of complete talking machines. All others are operated more or less by a system of contract construction—the fabricating system.

Years ago the Victor Company found it necessary to erect a large plant of its own in order to maintain its own standard of quality—VICTOR QUALITY

As this plant happened to be exactly what the Government required to produce bombing hydro-aeroplanes and other submarine detecting devices, the Victor plant was chosen for the place of honor and sacrifice, while our less fortunate or less competent competitors were ignored and allowed to continue.

This is the true story, the cause of the shortage in Victrolas, which our competitors have not been slow to take advantage of.

Many of our exclusive dealers stood by their convictions, while some have not and have put in competing lines which in many instances are inferior. This was their privilege, but we wish to point out that the advertisements which are appearing announcing several lines of "standard" talking machines are misleading.

There can never be several standards. The shortage of Victrolas and the lure of greater profits has induced the endorsement of inferior goods.

The Victor Company is the original manufacturer of the Victrola and holds all the original patents. In the last twenty-three years the Victor Company has originated all the startling improvements in the type of talking machine which it manufactures. Other manufacturers have simply followed, manufacturing instruments which are largely imitative.

The Victor Company is the only company in the United States fully equipped to make standard talking machines of the gramophone type—the Victrola is a gramophone not a phonograph.

There is only one standard talking machine and that is the VICTROLA.

There can be but one standard in any line, and the Victor Company produces the standard in talking machines.

NOTE—By reason of the above circumstances it is important that prospective customers visit a store where Victor goods are given fair presentation.

THE COST OF PROHIBITION.

There are people who profess to be scandalized by the cost of prohibition. It appears that it is going to cost at least $4,000,000 a year to enforce it. There will be about $330,000 a month and $11,000 a day going out of the federal treasury, "just to keep the country dry."

If prohibition can really be enforced at this price, it will be a bargain. While liquor taxes and saloon licenses altogether probably amounted to half a billion dollars, let it not be forgotten that that half-billion was not a miraculous gift. It came out of the liquor traffic, and by that traffic was passed on to the consumer, and so came ultimately out of the pockets of the citizens—very largely the same citizens who are now kicking about its being cut off.

And the liquor traffic altogether is said to have taken a toll of $2,000,000,000 or $3,000,000,000 a year—all that money poured down people's throats, and most of it certainly doing more harm than good. To this might be added all the indirect cost, difficult to trace, of crime, disease, poverty and general inefficiency due somehow or other to alcohol. The total might run up to several billions a year.

The country's getting off easy with that $4,000,000.

WILHELM'S ANNOTATIONS.

The former kaiser is undone. After all his frenzied disclaimers of responsibility for the war, he proves his own guilt. He becomes a witness against himself, because, along with his habit of reckless speech, he had the fatal vice of scribbling.

The inquiry into the causes of the war conducted by the new German government has dragged to the light hundreds of secret documents. There are bales of dispatches and reports that were submitted to Wilhelm, before and during the war, and annotated by him according to his custom with marginal remarks.

Typical of them all is the comment he penciled on the margin of a report concerning the assassination of the Austrian archduke at Sarajevo, two days after that event occurred.

Ambassador Tschirschky, at Vienna, had written: "I have repeatedly heard here, even among serious people, that there must some day be a thorough reckoning with the Serbs." To this Wilhelm added the words, "Now or never!"

When the ambassador wrote that he had "zeized every occasion in order quietly, but very firmly and seriously, to warn against any hasty steps," the indignant and belligerent kaiser added, "Who authorized him to do this? This is very stupid. It is no business of his. If afterwards things go wrong we will be told Germany was unwilling. Tschirsky will please stop this nonsense. Accounts must be settled with Serbia, and that soon!"

And for five years Wilhelm has persevered in the lie that neither he nor his government had anything to do with Austria's treatment of Serbia, which brought on the big war. It is the same with dozens of other matters involving the question of war conspiracy.

Those marginal notes will be heard from when Wilhelm is put on trial before an allied tribunal. It should be a warning to foolish scribblers.

CODDLING THE "REDS"

Deportation is not the final solution of the "Red" problem, but deportation is by common consent the obvious, immediate step to take. There is growing impatience over the apparent timidity and delay of federal authorities in this respect.

Months ago there was announcement made of a general round-up of dangerous aliens. Particular attention was called to a trainload of trouble-makers from Seattle, destined for New York and thence for their native lands. It appears now that only seven men out of that murderous cargo have actually been deported. According to the New York World three of them are still held in custody in New York, and 22 have been turned loose.

There has been another big round-up since. What is to come of that?

How many of these violent enemies of Americanism have been deported so far, altogether? How many are held? How many have been freed, by legal procedure or official laxity, to continue their menacing propaganda? When are the exportations going to begin in earnest? The public would like to know.

It is explained that present laws are not drastic enough to confer the necessary authority. For that, congress is responsible. It is also charged that prosecutors and federal officials in general have not taken full advantage of powers already existing. The people would like to see a tightening up of laws and administration both. The menace is too grave to play with.

"Reds" imprisoned in New York are quoted as saying: "You have got us in jail, but our turn is coming, and then God help you! We will blow the heads off a few people like you (referring to members of congress) when the time comes."

How much longer is the government going to stand for that sort of thing?

THE UNWILLING LORD.

"Three generations from shirtsleeves to shirtsleeves" has become a proverbial description of Americans. Young Viscount Astor, son of the late William Waldorf Astor, feels the shirtsleeve urge. He wanted to drop his title, inherited from his father, to stay in the House of Commons, where he had a seat, instead of sitting in the House of Lords. But will the English let him gratify his democratic ambition? They will not. A bill introduced in the House of Commons, under which he would have been able to give up his title, was defeated 169 to 56.

Perhaps this seems undemocratic. But is it? The English love a lord, but they are also sticklers for the lord's upholding his responsibility. From their own point of view, perhaps they were right. To drop the title would be to shirk a duty.

But from the American point of view, the advice to the young lord-in-spite-of-himself would be to come home where he belongs and where he can be any kind of private citizen he wants to be.

NEW YORK LETTER

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—Thoughts while strolling around Manhattan: Ruddy cheeked youth is William Ziegler. Adopted. Left a million. Too much for a young man. Jim McIntyre and Tom Heath. Old minstrels. Been together 45 years. And never a quarrel. How do they do it? Just to see anyone around that long would make me mad.

There's another McIntyre! Frank the actor. Waxes philosophic about prohibition. Must cultivate him. Beneath such philosophy is usually a cellar. Shop girls with fur coats and cigarettes. Manicure parlors charges $5 a manicure. And its packed.

Crullers and coffee 60 cents! Can't beat it. Wonder if there's anything you can buy for a nickel any more? Milk Association has sign on window: "Be kind to your cow: She will in return give you more and better milk." If I owned a liberal cow she could sleep in the parlor and have three afternoons off every week.

Everybody staying at home these nights. O life, where is the jazz. Little Japanese baby in native costume. Cute little rascal. Dr. Frank Crane out again. Had a long sick spell. Herb Roth, the artist, back from Frisco. Bought a prune ranch. Zip in the ozone. Smell the ocean.

Fish I could go 'round the Horn on a windjammer. Men wearing narrow ties. Manufacturers want to conserve the cloth. Good idea! Dog with boots on. Metropolitan Opera opened. So is the Horse Show! Giddap!

Sheriff Dave Knott. Owns a flock of hotels. All the movie shows crowded. What is the movie theme that holds them. Triumph of the real love over the base temptation of lucre generally. I'll go in one and see for myself.

Arrested for stepping on the accelerator of her car a bit too persistently over on the Jersey side the other day, an attractive blue-eyed, brown haired chauffeuse was hailed into court before a magistrate, the nationality of whose forebears there was no mistaking.

"Young lady, the charge ag'inst you is speedin'. What's your name?" "Neysa Moran McMein, sor!" "Is that so? Case dismissed."

Miss McMein is the cover girl of the magazines. Wherever you see a magazine you are almost likely to see one of her covers. She was born in Quincy Ill. and was christened Marjory. She began at newspaper cartooning in Chicago and later was chief millinery designer of a millinery establishment. Then New York called her eight years ago.

She has traveled by motor boat along the coast of Algiers, joined a tribe of Arabs, was proposed to by a Sheik and rode 100 miles across the desert sands on camel back. She has been entertained by Count Zeppelin—before the war—and has made a flight in a giant dirigible. She was in France a year entertaining for the "Y."

The sudden exit of Gaby Deslys from America was the cause of much speculation. Then the news came out that just as she was about to sign up in an American movie studio she got a cable gram offer from the Roma-New York corporation which is making movies for Russia the near Orient and other European countries. The idea is to make some pictures of Gaby for Portugal. The people there want some "close ups" of the girl who cost Manuel his crown. It is said that they are willing to pay as high as $5 a seat. The offer made Gaby too big to quibble over. And Gaby being commercially artistic hopped on the next boat for home.

Corns Come Off Like Banana Peel

'Gets-It' Leaves Toe Smooth As Your Palm. Never Fails.

Ever peel off a banana skin? Well, that's the way "Gets-It" peels off any corn or callus. It's a picnic. Nothing else in the world will do it.

"2 Drops of 'Gets-It.' Goodbye Corns!"

but "Gets-It" because of the new secret principle in the "Gets-It" formula. "Gets-It" does away forever with "contraptions," "wrappy" plaster, ointments that rub off, blood-letting knives, and scissors that snip into the "quick." "Gets-It" eases pain. It takes but a second or two to use "Gets-It." There's no fussing or trouble. It dries immediately. You put your stocking right back on again. Your corn will come off painlessly in one complete piece. That's common-sense. It never fails. "Gets-It," the only sure, guaranteed, money-back corn-remover, costs but a trifle at any drug store. Mfgd by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill. Sold in East Liverpool and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by Carnahan's Pharmacy, T. R. Ashbaugh, Bulger's Pharmacy, Jesse D. Holloway, C. G. Anderson, John Hodson and Chas. T. Larkins.

Dr. Carter's K. & B. Tea Makes Fine Laxative Syrup

Make It at Home and Save About $1.50—Children Love to Take It.

Get from any drug store a package of Dr. Carter's K. and B. Tea. Put contents in a bowl. Add a level teaspoonful of sugar. Mix and pour over this 3 teaspoonful of boiling water. Cover and allow to stand for at least 2 hours. Strain and flavor either with Essence of Peppermint or Wintergreen, according to taste.

Dose for adults, 1 tablespoonful each night or night and morning until a regular movement of the bowels is effected. For children, 1 teaspoonful more or less according to age.

For a real tonic and blood purifier, 1 teaspoonful every night or every other night for at least three weeks. Cut this recipe out and paste it on the bottle.

GIFT BUYING RUSH BEGINS

Advent of the month of December finds East Liverpool already in the midst of an unprecedented pre-holiday gift purchasing rush.

East Liverpool merchants predict the banner year in their history this season and have made great preparations to meet the desires of their patrons.

Absence of the German-made toys seemingly is affecting but little the American toy market. Toyland in local stores is a place of wonderment to the children and has for days been the mecca of hundreds of fond parents. Monday the toy shops were thronged to capacity and the toy reserve in many stores is rapidly diminishing.

The conclusion of the world war and the return of the city's 1,200 or more ex-service men is believed largely responsible for the pre-holiday business boom. Last year only the essentials in the gift line were purchased and subjected to the dangers of irregular delivery to the men overseas. Luxuries are being indulged in this year for gifts to the men back home.

East Liverpool should feel well proud of its mercantile establishments, a prominent out-of-town real estate dealer declared to the member of a local real estate firm last week. Its stores, the man said, compare favorably with any other city he has visited and surpass many of larger population.

Lewsville—A quadruple funeral was held here for the victims of the fire that destroyed the residence of Carlos Luberg, near town. The origin of the fire is still a mystery.

WORKS HARD TO AVERT FLU EPIDEMIC

Government and City Health Officials Warn People to Keep Clean.

Stay Away from People with Coughs and Colds.

"Avoid crowds if you want to avoid influenza," says Association for Improving the Conditions of New York.

Keep your hands clean, drink plenty of fresh water; sleep with windows open; eat three uniform meals a day including a good breakfast.

People who have catarrh or frequent colds invite influenza, declares a prominent Kentucky druggist.

The membrane of the throat and nose is raw, sore and tender, and makes a lovely abiding place for germs to thrive and multiply. He advises an inexpensive home-made remedy that will bring relief in less than a day and will stop all discharge and soothe and heal the inflamed membrane in a few days.

Thousands are making this beneficial remedy at home and anyone who has catarrh or a cold can do the same. Pour three-quarters of an ounce of Mentholized Arcline into a pint bottle, then fill the bottle with water that has been boiled. Gargle the throat as directed and snuff or spray the liquid into the nostrils twice daily. It's a simple way to get rid of cold and catarrh and keeps the nasal passage and throat clean and healthy. Nearly all druggists dispense Mentholized Arcline in vials containing exactly three-quarters of an ounce, which is all you need to make a pint of this healthful medicine.

TORPEDOED!

Don't blast your Liver and Bowels, but take "Cascarets."

You men and women who can't get feeling right—who have headache coated tongue, bad taste and foul breath, dizziness, can't sleep, are bilious, nervous and upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach and colds.

Are you keeping your liver and bowels clean with Cascarets, or shocking your insides every few days with Calomel, Salts, Oil and violent Pills.

Cascarets work while you sleep; they cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested, fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the constipated waste matter and poison in the bowels. Cascarets never gripe, sicken or cause inconvenience and Cascarets cost so little too.

'A little in one's own pocket is better than much in another man's purse'—

You save money every time you buy "PURITY" Margarine.

In the course of a month—or six months—or a year—the saving totals a considerable amount.

That saving, as a man would put it, is all "velvet." You do not sacrifice either flavor or quality.

Your dealer has "PURITY" or will get it for you. He also has "PURITY" Nut Margarine made of coconut oils churned in Pasteurized milk.

Missionary Society Program.
Mrs. Mabel Bruhn led the devotionals at the regular monthly meeting of the Women's Foreign Missionary society of the First Methodist Episcopal church Monday evening. The following program was given:
"Christmas in Other Lands," with chorus of young ladies; study book, "Healing of the Nations," chapter III, Mrs. Arthur Shone; cantata, "The Heavenly Child," Ladies' quartet; business session.

Mrs. C. A. Bostock Hostess.
Mrs. C. A. Bostock, Avondale street, entertained at dinner Sunday evening, complimentary to Messrs. V. A. Campbell, Paul Adams, Samuel Glaspe and Paul Breckenridge, guests of Mrs. J. A. Dimmerling, College street. The young gentlemen are well known in this city where they appeared as the "Orpheus Four," singers with the chautauqua last summer. Covers at dinner were laid for the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Dimmerling and family, Mrs. W. H. Kennedy of Los Angeles, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Smith, Miss Evelyn Smith, Mrs. A. C. Bostock and Messrs. Campbell, Adams, Glaspe, Breckenridge and Arthur Bostock.

In Honor of Newlyweds.
As a courtesy to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Backus, recently married, a group of friends were entertained at a reception at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. William Watson, Thompson avenue, Monday evening. The bride, who was formerly Miss Lillian Watson, was the recipient of many gifts.

The hostess, Mrs. Watson, assisted by her daughters, Mrs. Joseph Penny and Miss Mary Watson, served an elaborate supper. Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Woodward, of Beaver Falls, Pa., and Charles Elsenhuth of Canonsburg, Pa.

Beauty Answers

By MADAME MARIE

Squeezing and pinching out blackheads make the pores large and cause irritation; then, too, after they have become hard you cannot get rid of them a simple way, to wit: to dissolve them. Just get from any drug store about two ounces of powdered nioxin, 50 cents a tin—that is to dissolve them. On a hot wet sponge—rub over the blackheads briskly for a few seconds—wash off and you'll be surprised to see that every blackhead has disappeared, and the skin will be left soft and the pores in their natural condition—anyone troubled with these unsightly blemishes should try this simple method.

ALL OUT!—I do not wonder that you are disgusted with the hair tonics commonly sold. Did it ever occur to you that you need a real hair grower instead of a hair tonic? Here is a formula which has a wonderful effect upon the cell-growth of hair, and results can be quickly seen in the sprouting of new hairs, in the vigorous growth and lengthening of hair, and in its added lustre and firmness. Here is the formula: To half a pint of bay rum add half a pint of water (or else you may use a full pint of witch-hazel if you wish) and to this add one ounce of beta-quinol, which will cost no more than fifty cents at the drug store.

Mrs. T. C. G.—Cheer up! You'll be one of the happiest women in the world in a few days. I can promise you that, because your dream of a beautiful complexion will surely come true if you do as I say. Thousands have done it; you can do it. It never fails. Stop using all the prepared complexion creams sold in the stores and make your own this way, in a few moments. Mix one ounce of zintone, 50 cents' worth, and two tablespoonsful of glycerine in a pint of water. It's simple and wonderful. Every spot will vanish and leave your skin like that of the fairies you've read about. You can be sure of it.

Mrs. Benjamin Smith to Entertain.
Mrs. Benjamin Smith will receive the Ladies of the Sheridan Avenue Methodist Episcopal church at her home in Chestnut street, Tuesday evening. Hostesses for the meeting are Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Desher.

K. of S. Meeting

Special Showing of Feather Pillows

$2.25, $3.75, $4.75, $5.75, $6.75 and up to $11.75 a pair

RESTWEL PILLOWS

are the product of the finest pillow making skill in America. They are manufactured in the world's largest Pillow Factory by master craftsmen in the art of manufacturing pillows. The secret of the great success of Restwel Pillows is due to:—

1. Only New Washed Feathers Used
2. Scientific Cleaning Processes
3. Unsurpassed Quality and Comfort
4. Perfect Cleanliness

THE FINEST FEATHERS

are imported by the Robinson-Rodgers Co., Inc. Absolutely no second hand feathers are used. Our factory in Newark contains machinery peculiar to ourselves for Washing, Drying, Sterilizing, etc. In all there are fourteen separate processes. This scientific treatment makes every feather wonderfully Soft, Fluffy and Buoyant. It actually improves on nature. No wonder then, that Restwel Pillows are so springy and delightful to sleep upon. Even after years of use a Restwel Pillow is still soft and billowy.

MORE FEATHERS PER POUND

The exclusive Robinson-Rodgers Process extracts dirt, and every particle of animal matter. With every feather made light as snow, there are naturally more feathers per pound in Restwels than in other brands of pillows. Restwel Pillows are well filled, no skimping on filling.

CLEAN AND SWEET

Restwel's are the most sanitary pillows on the market. Even the inside of the quill is cleaned by the Robinson-Rodgers process. A new feather quill contains animal fats which unless removed will later decay.

MASS MEETING OF CITIZENS TUESDAY

The mass meeting of Newell residents to be held in the school building at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday evening promises to be largely attended from all indications.

The purpose of the meeting is to consider ways and means of financing the Newell volunteer fire department which is badly in need of funds. New hose, boots, coats and other equipment are needed to bring the department up to the highest standard of efficiency which can be attained in a volunteer fire fighting organization.

AT the Theatres

FLORENCE REED STARS IN "WIVES OF MEN"

"Her husband had gone to catch the midnight train. She rushed to the telephone and called up another man, making an appointment for him to call upon her. The lights were low, a man entered, she ran to him, threw her arms about him, kissed him passionately. Then she suddenly discovered it was not the man she thought—but her husband. What would a woman do under such circumstances? What would you do? You can find out all about it by seeing Florence Reed in the great seven part photodrama 'Wives of Men' at the Strand theater Tuesday and Wednesday.

"FLAME OF YUKON" FILM AT CERAMIC

To see the actress that New York and the entire country is talking about at the present time see Dorothy Dalton in the great Triangle play, "The Flame of the Yukon," which will be shown at the Ceramic theater Tuesday. In this picture Dorothy Dalton shows all the qualities Morris Gest decided were necessary for the actress he selected for "Aphrodite." It was directed by Charles Miller, under the supervision of Thomas H. Ince, from a story by Monte M. Katterjohn.

"The Flame of the Yukon" is a story of the Frozen North when men braved the dangers and forces of nature to win fortunes and where beautiful

"DANDERINE" FOR FALLING HAIR

For A Few Cents You Can Save Your Hair and Double its Beauty.

To stop falling hair at once and rid the scalp of every particle of dandruff, get a small bottle of delightful "Danderine" at any drug store or toilet counter for a few cents, pour a little in your hand and rub it into the scalp. After several applications the hair usually stops coming out and you can't find any dandruff. Help your hair grow strong, thick and long and become soft, glossy and twice as beautiful and abundant.

women staked their greatest gift against man's gold. The atmosphere of Alaska in the days of the famous gold rush when there was "no law of God or man" in the mining camps is depicted in dramatic fashion.

DOROTHY PHILLIPS IN COLUMBIA PHOTOPLAY

One of the greatest emotional actresses of the screen in a tremendous photodrama will be shown at the Columbia theater today, when Dorothy Phillips will appear in "The Right to Happiness," her latest Universal masterpiece.

"The Right to Happiness" deals with the fallacy of the radical doctrine and tears away the mask from the star-chamber sessions of the Russian agitators.

Miss Phillips surmounts a difficult dual role with such artistry that critics see in "The Right to Happiness" a feminine counterpart of the notorious "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde."

Allan Holubar, who produced "The Heart of Humanity," is the producer of "The Right to Happiness," heretofore regarded as the star's greatest Universal achievement.

EIGHT VICTOR ARTISTS COMING HERE MONDAY

Henry Burr who is one of the Eight Famous Victor Artists that will appear in person at the Ceramic theater Monday evening Dec. 8 under the auspices of Lewis Bros. Co., has the unique distinction of being both famous and unknown at the same time.

Although he is known the world over as one of the foremost makers of Victrola records comparatively few music lovers have ever seen or heard him sing "In the Flesh." Even his real name is comparatively unfamiliar as most of his records are made under the famous name of "Henry Burr."

What's In Your Bottle of Milk?

YOU are right to rely on milk! It is your best food—it brings health and strength—it is the least expensive nourishment in existence.

But what if you could get a milk just twice as rich, twice as creamy, twice as nourishing as dairy milk?

You can. That double richness—that nourishment of twice the quantity of dairy milk—is exactly what you get in a bright tin of Every Day Milk. Nothing is added—nothing but water taken out.

And although you will enjoy its cream-like taste and its richness, you can buy it for much less than the cost of cream!

That is why women like you, who care about housekeeping, use Every Day instead of cream on cereals and in coffee—in cooking—and give it (with water added) to their children to drink.

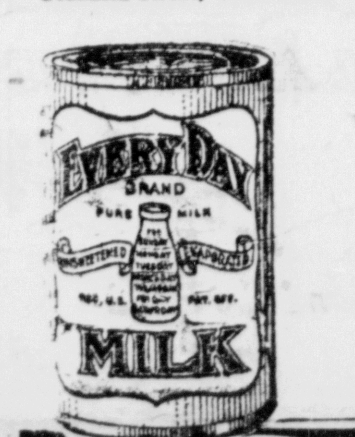

Be independent of the ice man and the milk man. Every day use Every Day—the safe and pure milk.

AID IS GIVEN POLISH FAMILY

The home service section of the Hancock county chapter of the American Red Cross is aiding in the support of a Polish family, consisting of a mother and four young children, residing in Weirton, it has just been announced by Miss Florence Moss, county secretary.

The mother has no relatives in this country. She can speak no English and through the aid of an interpreter appealed to the Red Cross for help. The four children, the oldest of whom is five, were left fatherless a short time ago.

Clothing, shoes, Red Cross sweaters, gingham and outing flannel have been given to the family and it has been put in care of the Red Cross representative in Weirton, who is Mrs. Ella Edwards.

HOLDS REVIVAL MEET AT ASBURY CHAPEL

Rev Jesse Deeds, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, is conducting a series of meetings at the Asbury chapel, back of Newell, this week. Meetings will be held every evening beginning at 7:30 o'clock.

The Epworth League society is conducting a "Win My Chum" drive. Special music will be rendered in connection with each service. There will be no meeting Saturday evening.

Close Grid Season.
The New Cumberland high school closed the 1919 football season Thanks giving day, when they downed the high school eleven from Midland by the score of 73 to 0. The game was witnessed by a large crowd of rooters. The county seat's team this year was one of the best which ever represented the high school on the gridiron.

ATTORNEY COCHRAN TO SPEAK HERE THURSDAY

Attorney Blaine H. Cochran of East Liverpool will be the principal speaker at a meeting of the principal speakers of the county.

Home grown potatoes are selling from the railroad cars at Weirton for $5.25 per bushel. This quotation is considerably higher than what Newell people are paying for "spuds." Fancy home grown "tubers" are retailing for $2 and $2.25 per bushel in this section less than half of what residents of the mill town are paying.

"MAYTIME" IS CLASSY MUSICAL OFFERING

"Maytime" the exceptionally popular entertainment which the Messrs. Shubert are to present at the Ceramic theater tomorrow evening differs so radically in both theme and treatment from the conventional musical comedy as to make a distinct innovation in stage fare. Its classification as a "play with music" is exact for it is a dramatic narrative embellished with auxiliary music which enhances the action by fitting logically into the story. "Maytime" was written by Rida Johnson Young author of "Brown of Harvard," "Naughty Mariette," "Capt. Kidd Jr." and other recent successes. Its musical setting came from while only a few are issued under his real name which is Harry McCluskey.

Burr was blessed with a wonderful tenor voice by beneficent nature, and began his musical studies at an early age. He is of a studious disposition and has acquired an enunciation which is as exceptional as it is distinct. In addition to solo work on the evening's program he will be heard in duets with Albert Campbell and also with the Sterling Trio and the Peerless Quartet both of which organizations he is a member.

Others to be heard during the evening are Billy Murray singer of humorous songs; Frank Croxton and John Meyers baritone; Fred VanEps banjoist; Monroe Silver monologist; and Frank Banta pianist.

COUNTY NEWS

NO ARRESTS IN LISBON DURING PAST MONTH

There was not a single arrest in Lisbon during the month of November under city ordinances or by the local police.

At the county infirmary Superintendent Harris states that since the first of May but ten persons have been admitted to the county home. In former years at the approach of winter applications came in bunches. Mr. Harris attributes the falling off to the fact that there is no longer easy access to intoxicants.

Hear Case from Salem.

Before Judge R. G. Mauk, in court room No. 2, the case of James B. Camp against Pasquellini Giovanni is on trial. This suit grows out of an accident on the highway near Salem last February, when Giovanni, running an automobile, ran into a buggy in which Camp was riding. Judgment was secured in justice's court for $188 the defendant took an appeal. Camp's wife was injured in the accident and she will have a separate action for damages.

TEXT OF MESSAGE

orable balance of trade has thus been greatly increased and Europe has been deprived of the means of meeting it heretofore existing. Europe can have only three ways of meeting the favorable balance of trade in peace times: By imports into this country of gold or of goods or by establishing new credits. Europe is in no position at the present time to ship gold to us, nor could we contemplate large further imports of gold into this country without concern. The time has nearly passed for international governmental loans and it will take time to develop in this country a market for foreign securities. Anything, therefore, which would tend to prevent foreign countries from settling for our exports by shipments of goods into this country could only have the effect of preventing them from paying for our exports and therefore of preventing the exports from being made. The productivity of the country greatly stimulated by the war must find an outlet by exports to foreign countries and any measures taken to prevent imports will inevitably curtail exports, force curtailment of production, load the banking machinery of the country with credits to carry unsold products and produce industrial stagnation and unemployment. If we want to sell, we must be prepared to buy. Whatever therefore, may have been our views during the period of growth of American business concerning tariff legislation, we must now adjust our own economic life to a changed condition growing out of the fact that American business is full grown and that America is the greatest capitalist in the world.

"No policy of isolation will satisfy the growing needs and opportunities of America. The provincial standards and policies of the past, which have held American business as if in a straight-jacket, must yield and give way to the needs and exigencies of the new day in which we live, a day full of hope and promise for American business, if we will but take advantage of the opportunities that are ours for the asking. The recent war has ended our isolation and thrown upon us a great duty and responsibility. The United States must share the expanding world market. The United States desires for itself only equal opportunity with the other nations of the world and that through the process of friendly co-operations and fair competition the legitimate interests of the nations concerned may be successfully and equitably adjusted."

"There are other matters of importance upon which I urged action at the last session of congress which are still pressing for solution. I am sure it is not necessary for me again to remind you that there is one immediate and very practicable question resulting from the war which we should meet in the most liberal spirit. It is a matter of recognition and relief to our soldiers. I can do no better than to quote from my last message urging this very action:

"We must see to it that our returning soldiers are assisted in every practicable way to find the places for which they are fitted in the daily work of the country. This can be done by developing and maintaining upon an adequate scale the admirable organization created by the department of labor for placing men seeking work; and it also can be done in at least one very great field, by creating new opportunities for individual enterprise. The Secretary of the interior has pointed out the way by which returning soldiers may be helped to find and take up land in the hitherto undeveloped regions of the country which the federal government has already prepared or can readily prepare for cultivation and also on many of the cut-over or neglected areas which lie within the limits of the older states; and famine. A local store received a few hundred pounds Tuesday and sold it a pound to a person. The store was so crowded that doors had to be locked to keep people out. Many families are without sugar.

Trial of Damage Case.

The damage case of Mary Morgan against Eugene Law of East End, East Liverpool, was placed on trial Tuesday morning before Judge J. G. Moore. It is claimed that Law, who is a colored man, sawed a limb off a tree in front of his residence on May 30, 1919, and in falling the limb struck May Morgan, knocking her down, rendering her unconscious and injuring her head. Law claims that a boy caught the limb where it was hanging and pulled it down and that he was not responsible.

To Spend Winter in California.

W. T. Nace left Tuesday for Los Angeles, Calif., where he will remain during the winter with Mrs. Edward Huffman, a daughter. Mr. Nace's health has not been good for some time.

Lisbon PERSONALS

George D. Flugan, aged resident of Lisbon suburbs, is ill.

The condition of Mrs. Bert Burns continues critical.

Misses Olive Halverstadt, Nellie Johnson and Eva Armstrong, who had visited several days with home folks in Lisbon, have returned to Youngstown.

Dan Miller has returned to Cleveland to resume his studies, after spending several days in Lisbon.

Mrs. Russell Hendricks of Kenmore, Ohio, has returned home, after a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Potts.

J. W. Moore of East Liverpool was a Lisbon visitor Monday.

George Lafferty of Cleveland, after a visit in Lisbon, has returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. Addison Lech, of Sharon, Pa., have concluded a visit with relatives in Lisbon.

commending very urgently that his plans shall receive the immediate and substantial support of congress."

"In the matter of tariff legislation, I beg to call your attention to the statements contained in my last message urging legislation with reference to the establishment of the chemical and dyestuffs industry in America:

"Among the industries to which special consideration should be given is that of manufacture of dyestuffs and related chemicals. Our complete dependence upon German supplies before the war made the interruption of trade a cause of exceptional economic disturbance. The close relation between the manufacture of dyestuffs on the one hand and explosives and poisonous gases on the other, moreover, has given the industry an exceptional significance and value. Although the United States will gladly and unhesitatingly join in the program of international disarmament, it will, nevertheless, be a policy of obvious prudence to make certain of the successful maintenance of many strong and well equipped chemical plants. The German chemical industry with which we will be brought into competition, was and may well be again, a thoroughly knit monopoly capable of exercising a competition of a peculiarly insidious and dangerous kind."

"During the war the farmer performed a vital and willing service to the nation. By materially increasing the production of his land, he supplied America and the allies with the increased amounts of food necessary to keep their immense armies in the field. He indispensably helped to win the war. But there is now scarcely less need of increasing the production of food and the necessities of life. I ask the congress to consider means of encouraging effort along these lines. The importance of doing everything possible to promote production along economical lines, to improve marketing and to make rural life more attractive and healthful, is obvious. I would urge approval of the plans already proposed to the congress by the secretary of agriculture, to secure the essential facts required for the proper study of this question, through the proposed enlarged programs for farm management studies and crop estimates. I would urge, also, the continuance of federal participation in the building of good roads, under the terms of existing law and under the direction of present agencies; the need of further action on the part of the states and the federal government to preserve and develop our forest resources, especially through the practice of better forestry methods on private holdings and the extension of the publicly owned forests; better support for country schools and the more definite direction of their courses of study along lines related to rural problems; and fuller provision for sanitation in rural districts and the building up of needed hospital and medical facilities in these localities. Perhaps the way might be cleared for many of these desirable reforms by a fresh, comprehensive survey made of rural conditions by a conference composed of representatives of the farmers and of the agriculture agencies responsible for leadership."

"I would call your attention to the widespread condition of political restlessness in our body politic. The causes of this unrest, while various and complicated are superficial rather than deep-seated. Broadly, they arise from or are connected with the failure on the part of the government to arrive speedily at a just and permanent peace permitting return to normal conditions from the transference of radical theories from seething European centers pending such delay, from heartless profiteering resulting in the increase in the cost of living and lastly from the machinations of passionate and malevolent agitators. With the return to normal conditions, this unrest will rapidly disappear. In the meantime, it does much evil. It seems to me that in dealing with this situation congress should not be impatient or drastic, but should seek rather to remove the causes. It should endeavor to bring our country back speedily to peace basis with ameliorated living conditions under the minimum of restrictions upon personal liberty that is consistent with our reconstruction problems. And it should arm the federal government with power to deal in its criminal courts with those persons who by violent methods would abrogate our time tested institutions. With the free expression of opinion and with the advocacy of orderly political changes, however, fundamental there must be no interference, but towards passion and malevolence tending to incite crime and insurrection under guise of political agitation there should be no leniency. Legislation to this end has been recommended by the attorney general and should be enacted. In this direct connection, I would call your attention to my recommendations on August 8, pointing out legislative measures which would be effective in controlling and bringing down the present cost of living, which contributes so largely to this unrest. If the government's campaign is to be effective, it is necessary that the other steps suggested should be acted on at once.

"I renew and strongly urge the necessity of the extension of the present food control act as to the period of time in which it shall remain in operation. The attorney general has submitted a bill providing for an extension of this act for a period of six months. As it now stands it is limited in operation to the period of the war and becomes inoperative upon the formal proclamation of peace. It is imperative that it should be extended at once. The department of justice has built up extensive machinery for the purpose of enforcing its provisions; all of which must be abandoned upon the conclusion of peace unless the provisions of this act are extended."

"During this period the congress will have an opportunity to make similar permanent provisions and regulations with regard to all goods destined for interstate commerce and to exclude them from interstate shipment. If the requirements of the law are not complied with. Some such regulation is imperatively necessary. The abuses that have grown up in the manipulation of prices by the withholding of foodstuffs and other necessities of life cannot otherwise be effectively prevented. There can be no doubt of either the necessity or the legitimacy of such measures."

"As I pointed out in my last message, publicity can accomplish a great deal in this campaign. The aims of the government must be clearly brought to the attention of the consuming public, civic organizations and state officials, who are in a position to lend their assistance to our efforts. You have made available funds with which to carry on this campaign, but there is no provision in the law authorizing the expenditure for the purpose of making the public fully informed about the efforts of the government. Specific recommendation has been made by the attorney general in this regard. I would strongly urge upon the congress its immediate adoption, as it constitutes one of the preliminary steps to this campaign."

"I also renew my recommendation that the congress pass a law regulating cold storage as its is regulated, for example, by the laws of the state of New Jersey, which limit the time during which goods may be kept in storage, prescribe the method of disposing of them if kept beyond the permitted period, and require that goods released from storage shall in all cases bear the date of their receipt. It would materially add to the serviceability of the law for the purpose we now have in view if it were also prescribed that all goods released for storage for interstate shipment should have plainly marked upon each package the selling or market price at which they went into storage. By this means the purchaser would always be able to learn what profits stood between him and the producer or the wholesale dealer."

"I would also renew my recommendation that all goods destined for interstate commerce should in every case where their form or packages makes it possible, be plainly marked with the price at which they left the hands of the producer."

"We should formulate a law requiring a federal license of all corporations engaged in interstate commerce and embodying in the license, or in the condition under which it is to be issued, specific regulations designed to secure competitive selling and prevent unconscionable profits in the method of marketing. Such a law would afford a welcome opportunity to effect much other needed reforms in the business of interstate shipment and in the methods of corporations which are engaged in it; but for the moment I confine my recommendations to the object immediate in hand, which is to lower the cost of living."

"No one who has observed the march of events in the last year can fail to note the absolute need of a definite program to bring about an improvement in the conditions of labor. There can be no settled conditions leading to increased production and a reduction in the cost of living if labor and capital are to be antagonists instead of partners. Sound thinking and an honest desire to serve the interests of the whole nation, as distinguished from the interests of a class, must be applied to the solution of this great and pressing problem. The failure of other nations to consider this matter in a vigorous way has produced bitterness and jealousies and antagonisms, the food of radicalism. The only way to keep men from agitating against grievances is to remove the grievances. An unwillingness even to discuss these matters produces only dissatisfaction and gives comfort to the extreme elements in our country which endeavor to stir up disturbances in order to provoke governments to embark upon a course of retaliation and repression. The remedy for these things must not be negative in character. It must be constructive. It must comprehend the general interest. The real antidote for the unrest which manifests itself is not suppression, but a deep consideration of the wrongs that beset our national life and the application of a remedy."

"Congress has already shown its willingness to deal with these industrial wrongs by establishing the eight-hour day as the standard in every field of labor. It has sought to find a way to prevent child labor. It has served the whole country by leading the way in developing the means of preserving and safeguarding lives and health in dangerous industries. It must now help in the difficult task of finding a method that will bring about a genuine democratization of industry, based upon the full recognition of the right of those who work in whatever rank, to participate in some organic way in every decision which directly affects their welfare. It is with this purpose in mind that I called a conference to meet in Washington on December 1 to consider these problems in all their broad aspects, with the idea of bringing about a better understanding between these two interests."

"The great unrest throughout the world, out of which has emerged a demand for an immediate consideration of the difficulties between capital and labor, bids us put our own house in order. Frankly there can be no permanent and lasting settlements between capital and labor which do not recognize the fundamental concepts for which labor has been struggling through the years. The whole world gave its recognition and endorsement to these fundamental purposes in the league of nations. The statesmen gathered at Versailles recognized the fact that world stability could not be had by reverting to industrial standards and conditions against which the average workman of the world had revolted. It is expected, therefore, the task of the statesmen of this new day of changes and readjustment to recognize world conditions and to seek to bring about, through legislation, conditions that will mean the ending of age-long antagonisms between capital and labor and that will hopefully lead the building up of a comradeship which will result not only in greater contentment among the mass of workmen, but also bring about a greater production and a greater prosperity to business itself."

"To analyze the particulars in the demands of labor is to admit the justice of their complaint in many matters that lie at their basis. The workman demands an adequate wage, sufficient to permit him to live in comfort, unhampered by the fear of poverty and want in his old age. He demands the right to live and the right to work amidst sanitary surroundings both in home and workshop, surroundings that develop and do not retard his own health and well being; and the right to provide for his children's wants in the matter of health and education. In other words, it is his desire to make the conditions of his life and the lives of those dear to him tolerable and easy to bear."

PRICE OF COAL MAY HIT WATER RATE DECREASE

Boost In Fuel Bill at Water

Service Director Hopeful City
May Reduce Present

With the city's monthly coal bill for the filtration plant alone approximately $2,000, a material advance in the price of fuel at the termination of the present crisis in the coal mining industry would play havoc with plans of the administration for a reduction in city water rates the first of the year, it was stated Tuesday.

The filtration plant in the East End consumes a half carload of coal daily. The coal bill for the water works for the year ending October 1 was slightly over $24,000, or approximately $2,000 a month. An increase in coal rates to cover probable wage advances to the coal miners would mean an additional expenditure of no small sum, Service Director E. J. Smith declared.

According to statistics compiled by Water Works Clerk Robinson a short time ago, the city water works department emerged from the first year of the new filtration plant's existence with a comfortable balance. Basing an estimate on these figures, Service Director Smith early in the fall promised a decrease in water rates the first of the year.

If the city's coal bill is given a material boost under an increase in coal prices, however, the promised cut in water rates may be postponed until conditions readjust themselves.

BEGIN CLEAN UP AT DAM NO. 8

The usual "after-the-crest" cleanup is on at government lock No. 8, in the Ohio river just below here.

The river continues to fall at the rate of one-half tenth of a foot an hour, leaving behind a thick coating of mud. Lock machinery, signal light towers and other equipment below the high water line were undisturbed and must be renovated at once to prevent deterioration.

The stage stood at 15.5 feet at the lock Monday night. If the river continues to fall the wickets will be raised to maintain a boating stage.

Arrival of more rain will prevent the raising of the wickets, while predicted cold weather will also serve to check the receding river and delay the wicket raising.

The steamer General Pershing, which has been laid up for repairs, is again in commission and will resume its regular run between Pittsburgh and Parkersburg. The General Wood left here Sunday night enroute from Pittsburgh to Wheeling and way points.

Y. M. PASSERS TAKE EASY GAME FROM STEUBENVILLE

CHANGE DATE OF CLERKS' AND SCRIBES' MEET

Instead of Thursday evening, the feature industrial meet of the season, when the newspapermen and their cohorts, the printers, will wage deadly combat against ye haberdasher and cigar and shoe vender, will be held Friday evening of this week at the Y. M. C. A.

The date has been changed from Thursday to Friday in order that the Review printers, on whom the newspaper men will rely to a great extent, may be counted in on the battle. The printers are compelled to work Thursday night, but are unanimous in their wishes that the affair be postponed until the following evening.

The Review, Tribune, Pottery Herald, local newspapers, combined with independent print shops, will present a versatile lineup to their worthy rivals, the retail clerks. From the cigar store, the soda fountain, from the shoe counter and behind the drug shelves will be recruited material for the clerks' array against their opponents. Indeed, it will be a formidable gathering.

The tentative lists of entries have been drawn up on both sides and both lists include some classy material. The clerks will enter the following athletes: Canavan, Hall, Furnival, Wasbutzky, Cannon, Shenke, Diamond, Fredland brothers, Smith, Wise, Smurthwaite and Aldridge. Other clerks desiring to exhibit their athletic prowess are requested to make formal application for entry with Captain Clyde Hall at Sauber's cigar dispensary.

The newspaper men will choose from the following list: Reed, Blake, Devon, Greenawalt, Brush, Wise, Tuttle, Kaufman, Coe, Franz, Hopple, Gruber, Kinney and Callahan.

Fulton Back, Looks Huskier; Asserts Beckett Ducked Him

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—(Special.)—Fred Fulton, home from England, where he knocked out four native heavyweights and drove the rest to cover has undergone a marked change in manner and appearance. Apparently the four months he has spent under the tutelage of Tom O'Rourke have restored his self confidence. Past failures have been forgotten by the big plasterer and he views the future optimistically. It has been proven to his own satisfaction that he has nothing to fear from any heavyweight across the seas, as he believes, or seems to, that if he receives the opportunity to do so he will demonstrate his superiority over his rivals in his native land. That goes for Jack Dempsey, whom Fred is anxious to meet again.

Physically, too, he has improved. He has filled out a bit and there is a touch of ruggedness, hitherto lacking in the big fellow.

Says Fred:

"When we first reached England we were cordially received, for I think the English sportsmen believed as we did—that there was an excellent prospect of a meeting between Beckett and me. When Joe didn't evince any desire to hook up with me, we began to pound him in statements in the papers, and that soon put us in wrong. You see, their methods are different than ours, and it seems it isn't considered very clubby over there for one fighter to bowl another out in the public prints. We were branded as American bun throwers, and everybody seemed to be disposed to let it go at that. Later, when my offer to meet all the leading heavyweights in the same ring on the same night, the proceeds of the show to go to St. Dunstan's hospital for blind soldiers, was declined, the press and public sided in with me.

Beckett Ducks Again

"When Promoter Charley Cochran first matched Beckett and Carpenter he planned to hold the bout in Olympia. Carpenter requested a postponement which Cochran agreed to, but as he could not get Olympia for the new date agreed upon he planned to stage the fight in the Stadium. Not wishing to pass up the date for Olympia which the postponement left open, he signed Beckett to meet a substitute. Of course Tom rushed in and offered to have me box Beckett for £750. Beckett, however, couldn't be induced to meet me, and selected Eddie McGoorty as the man he wanted to box.

"Despairing of meeting Beckett, we started to pick on Frank Goddard who is just a big, slow fellow, but who ranks second to Beckett in the estimation of the British public. Goddard finally said he would box me for a side bet if we would give him ten to one odds. A night or two later Tom and I attended a boxing show and when I climbed into the rig to be introduced it was announced by Tom that Goddard's proposition was agreeable to us. Goddard, who was at the ringside made no move to clinch the agree-

Back in the middle of last baseball season when the fans were beginning to realize that the Cincinnati Reds were headed pennantward, baseball critics began picking weak links in the team. Said some of them: "If the Reds could get Buck Herzog to play short and fill the weak spot there the Reds would have a chance. The Reds didn't get Buck, but Morris Rath held up his end at short in the home stretch and world's series in a way that fooled the wise ones.

Watkins' Five Runs Up 92 Points While Visitors Are Getting 23—All "Y" Men Get Chance to Score Against Stubbers.

That basketball in East Liverpool is not on the wane was indicated Monday night when Bill Watkins' Y. M. C. A. passers ran away with the Steubenville Leaders, representing the Jefferson county "Y" on the local floor. The score was 92 to 23.

After the first few minutes of the contest it was evident that the Steubenville quintet was total out of its class. However, the visitors continued a plucky fight against odds. The "Y" tossers worked with all the precision of former years. Their team work was extremely effective. Every man on the squad took a fling or so at the basket and all players, including substitutions, registered scores before the end of the engagement. Although it was their initial try this season the locals demonstrated their ability to the utmost satisfaction of a large crowd. The visitors were unable to stop the "Y" machine which ground out point after point.

Johnny Greene had only seven trials from the foul line Monday night and made good five of them. Greene started the game at forward, with Calhoun. Both were taken out in the second half and Davis and Cannon took their places, in order to give all members of the squad a chance to get into the play. Vordrey was unapproachable at center. Greenawalt and Hen Vorndran were Watkins' selections for guards in the opening stanza. They gave way to Harvey Price and Irvin Vorndran. Nicholson and Myers were the star performers for the visiting five. The score: East Liverpool 92. Steubenville 23. Greene 5, Shamp 3, Calhoun 2, Nicholson 2, Vordrey 2, Myers 2, Greenawalt 2, Coulton 1, Hen Vorndran 1, Wert 1.

Substitutions—Cannon for Calhoun, Davies for Greene, I. Vorndran for Greenawalt, H. Price for H. Vorndran, Myers for Shamp, Armatage for Nicholson, Floto for Myers, Crawford for Coulton. Field goals, Greene 16, Calhoun 6, Greenawalt 3, H. Vorndran 2, Cannon 7, Davies 4, I. Vorndran 2, H. Price 2, Nicholson 2, Myers 2, Wert, Armatage, Floto, Fouts, Greene 5 out of 7, H. Price 1 out of 5, Coulton 5 out of 8, Armatage 1 out of 5.

EVIDENTLY NO TEAM WAITED LONG ENOUGH

Now that the 1919 baseball season is history with the Reds champions of the world and the White Sox clinging to the American league bunting, the predictions, made before and during the campaign, make interesting reading. List to what George Stallings, miracle man himself, had to say of Moran's chances as late as August 7:

"Moran has three good players," he said. "Daubert Groh and Roush. Their pitchers are good, of course, but I doubt if they can keep it up. It's just a case of a bunch of pitchers showing more class than they are supposed to possess.

"My pitchers back in 1914 may have set a faster pace than the fans thought they had a right to, but they demonstrated after that season that it was no fluke. Rudolph and Tyler are good right now, and Bill James had plenty of class but hurt his arm. Any good bunch of batters can beat Ring and Eller if they can wait 'em out."

LAST NIGHT'S FIGHTS

CLEVELAND—John Karpinski gave Fred Block a bad beating in ten rounds.

CANTON—Jack Britton knocked out Billy Ryan in eleventh round.

ZANESVILLE—Billy Freeman scored a knockout over Johnny Bedell in second round.

BOXER DIES AFTER FIGHTING FOUR ROUNDS

CINCINNATI, Dec. 2.—Oliver B. Cooper 18 years of age middleweight boxer of Dayton, Ky., died at General hospital last night following a four-round bout with Steve Stitzel at the Cincinnati gymnasium. Honors were even at the end of the third round and a fourth round of two minutes was staged. Stitzel won easily and as Cooper reached his corner he collapsed. This is the first ring fatality in this city in many years.

ISSUE CHALLENGE

At a meeting of the Liberty S. O. R. football team Monday evening a challenge was issued to the Pennova club for a game to be played Sunday afternoon at West End park. Some of the best football talent in the city will be lined up by Manager William Walters of the Liberty, including the following players: Warren, end; Dailey, tackle; H. Cochran guard; Wyand, center; Davis end; Marshall, tackle; Woerner, guard; Wolfe, fullback; Lynch, quarter; Davison, right half; Tope, left half.

GOOD MATERIAL FOR NEXT YEAR'S STATE ELEVEN

COLUMBUS, Dec. 2.—Choosing to be forward looking rather than to waste time in regret Ohio State athletic authorities are already laying plans for capturing the attention of Big Ten critics with their 1920 eleven. With the loss of three regulars and an equal number of substitutes from the 1919 team, Director Wilcox will have a strong bulwark of veterans on which to bank his next year's hopes. In addition he will have four dozen freshmen with which to work.

Coach "Red" Trautman, varsity basketball and baseball t/5r, whose fall specialty is to develop earlings, characterizes the present first year crop as the strongest and most promising yearlings in Ohio State history. Already the "stove league" on the campus is promising Illinois and Wisconsin and other Big Ten elevens as strong if not a stronger eleven than "Chic" Harley led this fall if the material is available next fall.

Over 200 freshmen answered the initial call for football early this fall—of whom 50 or more survived the strenuous season. As usual most of the material is from Ohio high schools. It is likely that particular attention will be paid to the development of a center and ends and backs for the 1920 Wilcox machine. Otherwise the 1919 Ohio State team will be intact for next fall's battles.

Of the cream of the freshmen who will be available next fall eleven are ends, six are tackles, eight are guards, four are centers, five are quarterbacks, ten are halfbacks and six are fullbacks.

Three West Virginians, products of Huntington high schools, coached by Archie Reilly, star Ohio State basketball and baseball player of six or seven years ago, are considered about the pick of the crop. Chief among the yearling luminaries is Harry Workman, quarterback, who captained the yearling eleven. Charlie Workman, a brother, is almost as big a star, but is an end. Harry Workman broke his hand during the season, but will be primed for next fall.

Four sport men are more plentiful than usual among the yearlings. Eight men won four letters in high school, while probably twice that many won places on teams in three different lines of sports. The four sport men

SPORTING GOSSIP

Consequent upon the abnormally large attendance at the baseball games last summer a great noise arose to the effect that the game was conclusively shown to be America's one great sport. That was before the football season got into full swing. As baseball drew great crowds in the summer, football drew greater crowds proportionately in the fall. Football followers are now proclaiming the gridiron America's great attraction. Both of them appear to have forgotten that equally and abnormally large crowds went to the races. What does that prove?

These facts and figures prove neither sport to be favorite. They prove that the country has been yearning for recreation and amusement, following the sombre days of the war. Healthy men and women will go to anything that offers diversion. It is the same thing that keeps crowds standing in front of the theatres for more than an hour; the thing that is crowding the eating places.

Sport now has its greatest opportunity. People love to be outdoors and love to witness physical combat or contest. All the promoters have to do is to keep sport clean and above intrigue—petty politics. If they will take care of the public the public will take care of the treasury. The season has proved that.

Golf is an old man's game if only the number of old and young men playing the game is taken into consideration. Viewed from the other angle, of the difference in the golf and the number of matches and championships won, it is decidedly a sport for the young, contrary to the contention of the sport's opponents.

Of the 325 players who entered the district tournament at the Detroit Golf club, probably more than 80 per cent of them were more than forty years old, well past that mark, too.

Yet when the reckoning came for the match play, out of the sixteen in the championship fight fourteen were under forty years, all but one or two of them in the twenties.

And T. Worden Hunter, who won the championship, is only twenty-two years old, one of the youngest, if not the youngest, to enter the tournament. Youth must be served.

are Abil, Cleveland university school; Lester Copeland, Lancaster; Ray Feller, Youngstown South; Harold Lorimer, Groveport; Harry Long, Columbus East; Ray O'Daffer, Ashville; Charlie Wolfe, Youngstown South.

The pick of the freshman squad of 1919 includes the following men: Abil, Cleveland University School, tackle; Baker, Stivers High, Dayton, end; Lester Copeland, Lancaster, end; Craig, Martin's Ferry, tackle; Resler, Youngstown South, fullback; Goldsward, Cleveland East Tech, end; Honaker, Huntington, halfback; Isabel, Columbus East, fullback; Jackson, Troy, tackle; Lakin, Dayton Steele, guard; Long, Columbus East, halfback; Don MacInnis, Toledo Scott, quarterback; Colin MacInnis, Toledo Scott, guard; Johnson, Cleveland, Glenville, tackle; Messerly, La Grange halfback; Mark, Warren, guard; Mesnon, Columbus North, guard; O'Daffer, Ashville, end; Osburn, Newark, quarter; Otterbacher, East Liverpool, halfback; Pauley, Youngstown, guard; Rohr, Columbus West, tackle; Seeds, Salem, halfback; Stone, Cleveland, Glenville, tackle; Thompson, Steubenville, guard; Van Blaricum, Columbus North, guard; Noel Workman, Huntington, end; Harry Workman, Huntington, quarter.

WONDERFUL VALUES IN SUITS AND OVERCOATS

$10, $12.50, $15 up to $25

It's like bounding Texas to describe the new boys' suits and overcoats that we purposely bought and promptly received for the holidays.

The suits, the designs, the patterns cover too much territory to be told about in a paragraph—so we won't even try.

HERE'S WHAT WE WANT TO IMPRESS ON EVERY PERSON WHO HAS A BOY TO REMEMBER THIS XMAS

If you give your little friend a suit or overcoat you will be giving him the finest gift possible to give—one that will be doing duty when the toys have been discarded—and if you buy it from this store you will receive as big a dollar for dollar values as it is possible to buy anywhere.

NEGRO HELD ON FORGERY COUNT

Isaac Wilson Bound Over to Court Under $1,000 Bond.

Arraigned on a charge of forgery in connection with the alleged passing of a worthless check, Isaac Wilson, colored, of the East End, was bound over to the common pleas court under $1,000 bond by Mayor J. S. Wilson.

Wilson is charged with having forged a check for $5 on Samuel Breakstone, local merchant. The check was accepted by Paul E. Potts, Walnut street grocer. Wilson was arrested in the lobby of the Ceramic theater last week by Chief of Police Hugh McDermott. A sheaf of cancelled checks stolen by Wilson from Knights of Columbus rooms was found in his possession when arrested.

Wilson had originally been charged with larceny, preferred by an East End man, but the more serious allegation of forgery was filed against him following his arrest. He admitted Saturday afternoon to having received the money from the forged check, the police say.

OPEN SALE OF MERCY SEALS

The sale of Red Cross Christmas Seals, the proceeds of which will be used to fight the ravages of the white plague, was inaugurated in the East End Monday afternoon. Eight booths were opened in business houses. Mrs. Zed Smith is chairman of the East End forces.

Booths have been placed in the following Mulberry street stores: Chambers Department Store, The Bradman Grocery, Cunningham Grocery, Wilson News Depot Ashbaugh Drug Store, Cline's Grocery and Carnahans Drug store.

Mrs. Smith, the chairman is being assisted during the drive by Miss Cornelia Supplee.

The East End Troop of Boy Scouts will assist in the sale of the seals during the latter part of the week.

"Wives of Men"

—WITH—

Florence Reed and Frank Mills

"Wives of Men" is a seven-part super-special production that contains enough thrills and startling situations to make a half dozen pictures.

From the time of the astounding revelations brought out at the wedding in the first reel until the greatest surprise finish ever put in pictures in the seventh part the interest never lags for a moment. It is one of the greatest pictures we have ever presented.
